I believed that Microsoft is a monopoly that is using it's power to squash competition. In order to see a healthier OS marketplace I would like to see them punished for their anti-competitive acts.

Companies like Enron and Microsoft should be punished for causing people like me to lose faith in the "free market" system. In order for conservatives to be able to continue to say "the market will solve the problem" Microsoft must be punished. Otherwise it is all just empty talk by people who are robbing us all. I say go after them for racketeering.
